Tagline

Automatically monitors pending tasks, prioritizes deadlines, and delivers AI-generated deadline reports directly to your inbox.

OVERVIEW

The Task Companion Agent is an AI-powered task monitoring and reporting system designed to help individuals and teams stay ahead of critical deadlines. By continuously reviewing pending tasks, evaluating due dates, and organizing work based on urgency, the agent transforms task data into actionable daily reports.

Instead of manually reviewing spreadsheets or project trackers, users receive structured deadline intelligence highlighting what requires immediate attention, what is upcoming, and what has already become overdue.

SYSTEM REQUIREMENTS

- Task management spreadsheet
- Google Sheets integration
- Task records repository
- Due date tracking
- Task status management
- Priority classification
- OpenAI language model access
- Email delivery integration

OPERATIONAL PROTOCOL

HOW IT WORKS

The agent retrieves task records from a centralized task repository and analyzes all active assignments.

Completed tasks are automatically excluded from reporting. Remaining tasks are evaluated based on their deadline dates and categorized into urgency-based groups. The AI then generates a structured deadline report that summarizes workload, highlights critical tasks, and organizes activities according to their required level of attention.

The final report is formatted as a professional email and delivered automatically to designated recipients.

EXPECTED OUTPUT

The Deadline Intelligence Agent generates:

- Daily deadline summaries
 - Pending task reports
 - Overdue task identification
 - Upcoming task visibility
 - Priority-based task organization
 - Deadline risk monitoring
 - AI-generated workload summaries
 - Executive task reporting
 - HTML email digests
 - Daily productivity insights
